Logo Process

The process that we use for producing logo'd floor mats is unique; we electrostatically fire individually coloured fibres into the carpet mat, then cross link them in place in high temperature ovens; this creates vibrant, sharp edged, fade and bleed resistant, long lasting logo's that are, in our belief, the best you can get. No ink or dye is used in this process.

We also offer a range of ink printed mats, which are better suited to applications where a large number of colours is required in the logo or where a cheaper short term solution is required.

The picture on the right shows the non-ink mat on top and the ink mat below.

Production

All of our logo matting is manufactured at our facilities in Australia, this is to insure clients of the highest quality and fast turnaround times.
